

Website Privacy Policy

Visitors to this website are not required to provide any personal information. However, to use certain features on this site, you may be asked to provide information about yourself prior to receiving secured website access.

RSI utilizes an online questionnaire for prospective accredited investors to provide their financial information in order to access to a secured website detailing certain offerings. When such information is requested, we provide Secure Socket Layering (SSL) encryption technology to ensure that your information is kept private and secure.

You may request that someone contact you for more investment information in which case you will be asked to provide necessary financial and investment experience information. In most cases, the person contacting you will be a RSI registered representative.

If you provide your email address, you may be contacted via email by a RSI registered representative and you may also receive an industry newsletter which you may opt-out from.

Our web server will log your Internet Protocol (IP) address or the IP address of your proxy server and other information related to your browser application for internal web accessibility purposes and for our own internal tracking purposes; however, personal or system specific information will not be recorded. Cookies are used to speed the login and tracking functions and in no way record personal information other than that information provided by you for the functionality of the site.

If you have any questions about security on our website, please contact us.
